- True leadership is about helping people reach places they didn't know they could go. – Mike Myatt
- Leadership is nothing if not understanding the need for change, and then possessing the ability to deliver it. – Mike Myatt
- Never personalize criticism. Show your wisdom and decision-making competence by remaining calm, cool, and collected. – Jeff Wolf

- You will be criticized. So learn to live with it. When you're in a leadership position, it's just part of the job description. – Jeff Wolf
- Accept the fact that a lot of criticism is aimed at those in positions of authority—as it has always been and always will be. – Jeff Wolf
- Don't get bitter—let it go. Never let someone else's criticism define who you are or derail what you're trying to accomplish. – Jeff Wolf
- Sometimes success is disguised as hard work. – Truett Cathy
- It is when we stop doing our best work that our enthusiasm for the job wanes. – Truett Cathy
- We must motivate ourselves to do our very best, and by our example lead others to do their best as well. – Truett Cathy
- Treat your employees well. Be generous to your staff. Treat them well and they'll stick around. – Joseph LaLonde
- A lot can go wrong as you're guiding and leading others. Having patience is a quality every leader should have. – Joseph LaLonde
- Successful entrepreneurs don't worry about failing. Instead, they know that every failure leads to their next success. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Many would-be founders are tripped up by fearing success. Successful entrepreneurs know that what they have to share is important, so they don't fear being corrupted by success. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- This sounds odd, because successful entrepreneurs are often very happy. But the key is they don't worry about it. They know that happiness comes when you're doing the work you're meant to do. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Successful business owners realize that quitting isn't always bad. Sometimes you have to cut your losses and move on to another idea. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Great entrepreneurs never worry about what they charge. They know they've created enough value that they're worth it. – Entrepreneur Magazine

- There's no room in a successful entrepreneur's mind for pessimistic thinking. If there's an issue, they handle it, but they don't invent problems. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- This may sound harsh, but the early stages of entrepreneurship requires your all. Successful founders don't worry about this -- they dig it and get it done. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Successful entrepreneurs see life as an adventure. They don't worry about being safe or doing the easy thing. They want to see and experience what life has in store for them each day. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Successful entrepreneurs know they can't do everything, and they don't worry about what they can't do. They simply hire people to make up for their weaknesses and focus on their strengths. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Successful founders don't worry about why they can't do something. Instead, they think of ways around obstacles and discover how they can accomplish their goals. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Ironically, chasing money is the surest way to not get it. Successful entrepreneurs don't worry about getting rich. They focus on sharing the value they create with others and riches follow naturally. – Entrepreneur Magazine
- Men are not prisoners of fate, but only prisoners of their own minds. – Franklin Delano Roosevelt
- If you believe that the odds are against you, and you do nothing in response, than perhaps you deserve defeat. But if you challenge those odds – even if you don't win – you will have acquitted yourself in ways that will strengthen you in the future. – John Baldoni
- I honor the Lord with my wealth and the firstfruits of my business. I have more than enough and my business continues to grow. As I give, it is given to me, good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over. - Prov. 3: 9,10; Luke 6:38
- No attack formed against me or my business will prosper. - Isa. 54:17
- What's there to be frightened of? Fear is an illusion. If you use the same energy to be confident, the most wonderful things happen. – Franklin Delano Roosevelt

- Happiness lies in the joy of achievement and the thrill of creative effort. - Franklin Delano Roosevelt
- To reach a port, we must sail - sail, not tie at anchor - sail, not drift. – Franklin Delano Roosevelt
- In any moment of decision, the best thing you can do is the right thing, the next best thing is the wrong thing, and the worst thing you can do is nothing. - Theodore Roosevelt
- The only man who never makes a mistake is the man who never does anything. - Theodore Roosevelt
- Do what you can, with what you have, where you are. - Theodore Roosevelt
- The best executive is one who has sense enough to pick good people to do what he wants done, and self-restraint enough to keep from meddling with them while they do it. - Theodore Roosevelt
- Good leaders are not afraid to do the hard things while poor leaders avoid hard decisions. – Chris Hefner
- Good leaders serve others while poor leaders pursue the applause of others. – Chris Hefner
- Good leaders react patiently while poor leaders are obtuse and compulsive. – Chris Hefner

- One of the truest tests of integrity is its blunt refusal to be compromised. - Chinua Achebe
- Integrity means that you are the same in public as you are in private. - Joyce Meyer
- If you're a small business owner and a person of faith, I URGE you to not leave Christ out of your business. Do not separate your business into a different "bucket" of your life. Your faith makes you who you are. – Steve Schramm

- If you are going to bring Christ into your business, you must operate with the utmost integrity. Because of Him, you have essential worth and value – and so does your work. – Steve Schramm
- Some people will think that you're crazy to start a new business and they will be correct. The safe and rational thing to do would be to never take a risk and work for someone else for the rest of your life.- Te-Erika Patterson
- The definition of entrepreneur is all about a person who organizes and operates a business taking on greater than normal financial risks. – Te-Erika Patterson
- If you happen to invest in your business and don't see an immediate return, keep working. Should you quit before you earn a profit, you'll never earn a profit.– Te-Erika Patterson
- Become inwardly directed: This simply means knowing who you are and how you make decisions. This will guide in you achieving your goals. – Sherrie Campbell
- Keep emotions under control: Successful entrepreneurs and leaders don't allow their emotions to control them. They know that this leads to irrational decision-making. – Sherrie Campbell
- Take risks. Good leaders rely on their self-knowledge to make faster and efficient decisions and assessments. – Sherrie Campbell
- Be patient. This prevents impulsive decisions that could do serious harm to the organization. – Sherrie Campbell
- Cultivate wisdom. Successful leaders learn from their mistakes in order to make them more persistent. – Sherrie Campbell

- Good leaders always speak to others with respect. They help their team align their personal goals with those of the organization. – John Rampton
- Entrepreneurs often have difficulty letting go of some control. However, giving employees more autonomy at work energizes and empowers them. As a result, their motivation and productivity increase. – John Rampton

- Successful leaders don't seek power. They want to get things done, solve problems, build amazing products/services and beat their competitors. However, they are also motivated to support others, share success and help people reach their goals as well.
– John Rampton
- The best leaders are known for their character. They're honest and never make promises they won't keep. They are respected for their morals and values. – John Rampton
- Living with fear stops us taking risks, and if you don't go out on the branch, you're never going to get the best fruit. - Sarah Parish
- I'm not afraid of storms, for I'm learning how to sail my ship. - Louisa May Alcott
- You always have two choices: your commitment versus your fear. - Sammy Davis, Jr.
- I learned that courage was not the absence of fear, but the triumph over it. The brave man is not he who does not feel afraid, but he who conquers that fear. - Nelson Mandela
- You gain strength, courage, and confidence by every experience in which you really stop to look fear in the face. You are able to say to yourself, 'I lived through this horror. I can take the next thing that comes along.' - Eleanor Roosevelt
- Everyone's definition of talent and success is different. Don't let others put you in a box or try to define you. - Adrienne Graham
- Know when it's time to move on and invest in yourself and your business. - Adrienne Graham
- To attack self-doubt, start by being honest with yourself. Remember that it's okay to make mistakes. Surround yourself with supportive friends and colleagues who will be there when you need to talk. - Arianna O'Dell
- The greater the degree of delegation, the more important accountability becomes. Delegation does not mean abdication. - James Strock
- Uphold the Highest Ethical Standards. Demand Integrity. - James Strock
- Don't let it get personal. First and foremost, never personalize criticism, even when you're being personally attacked. – Jeff Wolf

- You will be criticized. So learn to live with it. When you're in a leadership position, it's just part of the job description, so understand it and don't take unfair criticism to heart. – Jeff Wolf
- Show your wisdom and decision-making competence by remaining calm, cool, and collected. Most critics are trying to get a rise out of you, which may make you want to fire back. Don't. Self-defense is a natural instinct, but always weigh the costs. – Jeff Wolf
- Avoid knee-jerk reactions. Don't get bitter—whatever it is, let it go. Never let someone else's criticism define who you are or derail what you're trying to accomplish. – Jeff Wolf
- Rising above the criticism and objectively analyzing its authenticity earns the respect of your employees. – Jeff Wolf
- Criticism is a natural part of leadership. If no one is criticizing your leadership – you are not leading correctly. Leadership is not a popularity contest. Leadership is about always doing what is in the best interest of the organization you are serving. – Glenn Llopis
- Leaders get paid to make the difficult decisions. But many leaders don't really know how to lead; they waste time trying to satisfy the agendas of others – rather than focusing on the goals and objectives of the organization and people they serve. – Glenn Llopis
- Leadership requires mental toughness. If you are not being criticized, you are not leading and guiding the organization to grow, innovate and explore endless possibilities. You need to be strong and objective to whatever criticism people throw your way. - Glenn Llopis
- Effective leaders stay focused on confronting conflict head on – and move on to the next opportunity. When you get too personally vested, it becomes difficult to handle criticism and you eventually become stereotyped and your authority weakens. – Glenn Llopis
- Don't react impulsively. Faced with criticism, step back and assess the situation. Be patient, don't react impulsively. Too many leaders get defensive, focus more on their reputation and overreact, rather than evaluate the situation at hand. – Glenn Llopis

- Adversity may make or break you, but it primarily reveals you. Leaders must practice patience when faced with criticism and show a high level of composure and executive presence. – Glenn Llopis
- Criticism comes and goes. How well you lead through it is what earns you respect from your peers. – Glenn Llopis
- When you take criticism too personally, it becomes more difficult to be objective towards meeting the needs of the business and the people you lead. – Glenn Llopis
- Though you can never be perfect when leading, you must be open-minded enough to course correct along the way. Leadership requires you to pivot, renew and reinvent yourself. – Glenn Llopis
- One of the most important qualities of leadership is being a good listener. – Glenn Llopis
- Listening to criticism is a leadership responsibility that does not appear in the job description, but it can make you a more effective and trustworthy leader if you handle it constructively. – Glenn Llopis
- Think twice before you speak, because your words and influence will plant the seed of either success or failure in the mind of another. - Napoleon Hill
- Patience, persistence and perspiration make an unbeatable combination for success. - Napoleon Hill
- Every adversity, every failure, every heartache carries with it the seed of an equal or greater benefit. - Napoleon Hill
- The starting point of all achievement is desire. - Napoleon Hill
- Victory is always possible for the person who refuses to stop fighting. - Napoleon Hill
- Most great people have attained their greatest success just one step beyond their greatest failure. - Napoleon Hill
- It is literally true that you can succeed best and quickest by helping others to succeed. - Napoleon Hill

- Opportunity often comes disguised in the form of misfortune, or temporary defeat. - Napoleon Hill
- Fears are nothing more than a state of mind. – Napoleon Hill
- Edison failed 10,000 times before he made the electric light. Do not be discouraged if you fail a few times. – Napoleon Hill
- You don't have to fear defeat if you believe it may reveal powers that you didn't know you possessed. – Napoleon Hill
- You can't expect positive results if you are thinking positive less and negative more. – Jeff Keller
- You must take control of your mental activity. Think positively everyday until it becomes a habit. – Jeff Keller
- It's what you practice in private that you will be rewarded for in public. – Tony Robbins
- Confront your fears and be willing to expand your comfort zone. The courage muscle can be developed just like any other muscle—with exercise. When you do an activity outside your comfort zone a few times, that same activity becomes part of your comfort zone! – Jeff Keller
- You can be the best candidate and still not get selected. As a professional, if you didn't get the client, it was never meant for you. You weren't rejected, you were redirected.
- Your value as a professional does not decrease based upon someone's inability to see your worth. Believe in yourself and keep trying, the right door will open for you.
- Sometimes in the winds of change, we find our true direction.
- Remember that rejection is unavoidable in a creative life. Learning how to deal with rejection will keep you from plummeting into a place of immobilizing despair.
- As a professional, have a vision and don't let anything or anyone deter you from following it. Take courage. Put full steam into the next best opportunity you are working on. Keep a positive mental attitude. Pick up the pieces and dust yourself off.

- Don't let rejection cripple you. Let it motivate you. If you focus on positive thinking, even the harshest defeat is only a stepping stone.
- Remember, rejection is not a measure of your self-worth.
- Avoid over thinking rejection. Don't torture yourself repeatedly, reliving the moments of humiliation and thinking what you could have done to counteract it. If you keep picking at a scab, the wound would keep bleeding and you will never heal.
- When you are rejected professionally, don't feel sorry for yourself and slump into an attitude of self-pity. When we get rejected we trap ourselves in a moment of doubt and distress. Focus on professional and personal (spiritual, emotional, mental, physical) development.
- Rejection doesn't mean that you aren't good enough; it just means the other person failed to realize what you have to offer. - Mark Amend
- What is meant for you will not pass you by. If it didn't open, it's not your door. Remember, as a professional it's not about how many no's you get. It's about that one YES. Shake off rejection and disappointment and keep going. Don't give up. Your time will come!
- We need to lead from our knees. Genuine prayer must be in our DNA. It requires that we seek God first, then lead. If we lead first and then ask God to bless what we've done, we have the process backwards. DNA prayer keeps the order right. – Chuck Lawless
- We need to lead from our knees. Genuine prayer must be in our DNA. It's an admission of our love for God and a confession of our dependence on Him. – Chuck Lawless
- Genuine, DNA prayer says, "God, I love You and I need You." Many leaders wrestle with depending on anything or anyone other than themselves. – Chuck Lawless
- Genuine, DNA prayer forces us to slow down. For many of us who are continually busy, I suspect God would have to "catch" us first if He wished to use us. DNA prayer, on the other hand, naturally slows us down and turns us toward Him. – Chuck Lawless

- Genuine, DNA prayer undercuts our arrogance. It's really, really hard to remain arrogant if you're really, really meeting with God every day. His majesty overwhelms us, His accessibility amazes us, and His willingness to hear us humbles us. – Chuck Lawless
- Genuine, DNA prayer pushes against our tendency to be competitive. When intercessory prayer characterizes us, however, we see other leaders not as competitive threats but as gospel partners who welcome our prayer support. – Chuck Lawless
- Genuine, DNA prayer leads us to ongoing thanksgiving. That's because DNA prayer covers everything we do, and we soon realize that we could not take even one more step apart from His grace and mercy. – Chuck Lawless
- Genuine, DNA prayer gives us hope even when ministry is difficult. We can approach God morning, noon, and night . . . and anytime in-between. As long as I can look up to God and cry out to Him, I will always have hope no matter what I face. – Chuck Lawless
- You cannot be lonely if you like the person you're alone with. - Wayne Dyer
- Celebrate small successes. Analyze your weaknesses. Keep going. As you gain skill, you'll also gain a feeling of genuine confidence, one that can never be taken away--because you've earned it. – Jeff Haden
- The way to develop self-confidence is to do the thing you fear and get a record of successful experiences behind you. --William Jennings Bryan
- Always be yourself and have faith in yourself. Do not go out and look for a successful personality and try to duplicate it. - Bruce Lee
- You wouldn't worry so much about what others think of you if you realized how seldom they do. - Eleanor Roosevelt
- Trust yourself. Create the kind of self that you will be happy to live with all your life. Make the most of yourself by fanning the tiny, inner sparks of possibility into flames of achievement. - Golda Meir
- People are like stained-glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in their true beauty is revealed only if there is light from within. - Elisabeth Kübler-Ross

- Confidence comes not from always being right but from not fearing to be wrong. - Peter T. McIntyre
- Successful people have fear, successful people have doubts, and successful people have worries. They just don't let these feelings stop them. - T. Harv Eker
- Inaction breeds doubt and fear. Action breeds confidence and courage. If you want to conquer fear, do not sit home and think about it. Go out and get busy. - Dale Carnegie
- Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope and confidence. - Helen Keller
- Nothing can stop the man with the right mental attitude from achieving his goal; nothing on earth can help the man with the wrong mental attitude. - Thomas Jefferson
- Confidence is a habit that can be developed by acting as if you already had the confidence you desire to have. - Brian Tracy
- No one can make you feel inferior without your consent. - Eleanor Roosevelt
- The moment you doubt whether you can fly, you cease forever to be able to do it. - J.M. Barrie
- We avoid the things that we're afraid of because we think there will be dire consequences if we confront them. But the truly dire consequences in our lives come from avoiding things that we need to learn about or discover. - Shakti Gawain
- Outwardly suppressing negative emotions takes an internal toll on both cognitive skills like memory and physiological functions such as blood pressure, says Jane Richards. Therefore, you need to properly and professionally handle your emotions on the job. – Sujata Srinivasan
- Positive attitude is a learned behavior. – Sujata Srinivasan
- It is neither professional nor healthy to wear your emotions on your sleeve. You will be jeopardizing your career if you let people push your buttons easily. Learn to let go of small sources of stress by developing a positive attitude. – Sujata Srinivasan

- By choosing to focus on the positive aspect of a situation, you can avoid the negative fallout of an emotional response, says Jane Richards. When you behave in an unprofessional manner toward a colleague, you are sowing the seeds for workplace discord. – Sujata Srinivasan
- It can be frustrating when things don't go your way and teammates don't see eye to eye with you. However, learn to respond in a professional, not emotional, manner. - Sujata Srinivasan
- By making your management style more professional, you can minimize emotional responses associated with workplace stress. - Sujata Srinivasan
- Replace negative emotions with positive ones after they arise in your mind. Identify negative emotions as they arise, curbing an emotionally unhealthy response. Pre-empt negative emotions by being prepared with an arsenal of positive thoughts and emotions. - Sujata Srinivasan
- The hallmark of a professional is his ability to replace negative emotions with positive ones. - Sujata Srinivasan
- Exhibiting negative emotions at the workplace can be toxic to you and your peers. Your colleagues will respect you when you exhibit emotions in a dignified manner. - Sujata Srinivasan
- Our greatest weakness lies in giving up. The most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time. – Thomas Edison
- Just because something doesn't do what you planned it to do doesn't mean it's useless. – Thomas Edison
- There is no substitute for hard work. – Thomas Edison
- I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that won't work. – Thomas Edison
- If we did all the things we are capable of, we would literally astound ourselves. – Thomas Edison
- What you are will show in what you do. – Thomas Edison
- Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and looks like work. – Thomas Edison

- I never did a day's work in my life. It was all fun. – Thomas Edison
- Being busy does not always mean real work. The object of all work is production or accomplishment and to either of these ends there must be forethought, system, planning, intelligence, and honest purpose, as well as perspiration. Seeming to do is not doing. – Thomas Edison
- Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits. – Thomas Edison
- I never did anything by accident, nor did any of my inventions come by accident; they came by work. – Thomas Edison
- Nearly every man who develops an idea works it up to the point where it looks impossible, and then he gets discouraged. That's not the place to become discouraged. – Thomas Edison
- Be courageous. I have seen many depressions in business. Always America has emerged from these stronger and more prosperous. Be brave as your fathers before you. Have faith! Go forward! – Thomas Edison
- Your worth consists in what you are and not in what you have. – Thomas Edison
- The best thinking has been done in solitude. The worst has been done in turmoil. – Thomas Edison
- The value of an idea lies in the using of it. – Thomas Edison
- Your team should have some level of passion for your business and for their role in it. Mike Lindell says, “Pay special attention to the people you surround yourself with. When you have passionate employees who have your back, that's really important.”
- Anything that goes on in your business reflects on u as the business owner. Even though my business is bigger now than it was when I first started, I still run it the same way. Most of my workers have my direct phone # & if they notice a deviation they let me know. - Mike Lindell
- Make sure your team & other who surrounds your business knows how important they are. Mike Lindell says, “Treat every employee like they're your only employee, treat every customer like they're your only customer, treat every vendor like they're your only vendor.”

- The most important virtue is humility, to have a servant's heart, to listen to what people are saying, and to be empathetic to employees. I think that pride and arrogance are killers. - Pat Robertson
- There is only one boss. The customer. And he can fire everybody in the company from the chairman on down, simply by spending his money somewhere else. - Sam Walton
- If you want a successful business, your people must feel that you are working for them—not that they are working for you. - Sam Walton
- I still believe in the importance of charity, which means giving to God his just measure of goods he has seen fit to bestow on you in the form of material gain. – Colonel Sanders
- When I started out in the franchise business, I didn't know exactly what I was doing by promising God his part if he helped make my enterprise a success, but I now think that that is the reason for my success ever since. - Colonel Sanders
- Wealth, like happiness, is never attained when sought after directly. It comes as a by-product of providing a useful service. - Colonel Sanders
- One has to remember that every failure can be a stepping-stone to something better. - Colonel Sanders
- Courteous treatment will make a customer a walking advertisement. - James Cash Penny
- A merchant who approaches business with the idea of serving the public well has nothing to fear from the competition. - James Cash Penny
- No amount of business school training or work experience can teach what is ultimately a matter of personal character. Businesses are not dishonest or greedy, people are. Thus, a business, successful or not, is merely a reflection of the character of its leadership. - Truett Cathy
- You reap what you sow. It's impossible to sow apple seeds and get oranges. If you sow seeds of service and commitment and care for others, you can expect there'll be a return on that investment. - David Steward
- If your ship doesn't come in, swim out to it. – Jonathan Winters

● You've got to be an observer. And you've got to take time to listen to people, talk, to watch what they do. – Jonathan Winters
